This funding will provide the Government with a strategic resource base controlled by the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to harness data and evidence to improve results and efficiency of Government operations and programs. The funds will support strategic investments in cross-agency projects that: (1) reduce waste, duplication and mitigate cybersecurity threats in the management of Federal information technology (IT), and (2) get better results at lower cost across high-priority Government activities over the longer term by creating and institutionalizing new program models and evidence-building tools.

Integrated, Efficient and Effective Uses of Information Technology (IEEUIT).—Under the direction of the Federal Chief Information Officer (CIO), staff select and oversee projects that improve the results of Federal IT investments. The funding is used to support enhanced transparency, analytics, oversight and technical assistance aimed at achieving improved insights and oversight of information technology in the Federal Government. The funds will support continued operations of and enhancements to the Federal IT Dashboard, yielding better data analytics and oversight of the Government's $80 billion investment in IT. Building on data and insights from the IT Dashboard, the Federal CIO would engage directly with agencies through the use of TechStat and PortfolioStat reviews, identifying underperforming and duplicative investments, and taking corrective actions. The funds will also continue to support projects to enhance the productivity of IT operations, such as the data center consolidation initiative.

IEEUIT Cybersecurity.—Additional IT oversight resources for cybersecurity would be used by OMB to: (1) drive efficiencies for Federal cybersecurity activities through expanded oversight of agencies' use of cybersecurity funding, providing leadership with data to inform cybersecurity strategy; (2) improve oversight of specific cybersecurity activities such as continuous monitoring, perimeter defense, and all email, Domain Name Service, and identity management initiatives; and (3) work to establish a unified information security framework across the Federal Government, spanning the civil, defense, and intelligence communities, building on inter-agency work initiated in 2009.

Evidence-Based Innovation.—This funding will increase cost-effectiveness and return on investment across Government programs by dedicating project funding and expert staff resources to three strategic objectives: (1) driving existing resources to evidence-based practices to achieve better results per dollar and generate long-term savings, including by redesigning grant programs to adopt data-driven, outcome-focused approaches and by spreading the adoption of rigorous evaluation and other evidence-building tools across the Federal Government; (2) catalyzing measurable agency performance improvements, including through rapid experimentation and testing and by improving access to and utilization of high quality data; and (3) accelerating learning and creating conditions for cost-effective change at all levels of Government, including by partnering with innovative leaders in States, localities, foundations, research organizations, and other private sector experts. This work leverages lessons learned from the Partnership Fund for Program Integrity Innovation as well as evidence-based policy and initiatives across agencies.

The Spectrum Relocation Fund, created by the Commercial Spectrum Enhancement Act of 2004, streamlines the process for reimbursing Federal agencies that must relocate wireless communications systems from Federal spectrum that has been reallocated to commercial use. Auction receipts associated with the reallocated spectrum from the Advanced Wireless Services spectrum license auction were deposited into the Fund in December 2006. To expedite clearing of the auctioned spectrum, the statute provides mandatory spending authority for approved relocation payments. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) administers the Fund in consultation with the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) of the Department of Commerce.
